Weber Basin Water Conservancy

The Weber Basin Water Conservancy District (Weber Basin) recently met with local leaders from northern Utah. Water resources are limited in Utah which is the second driest state in America. Weber Basin asked the city to inform residents about water conservation. Being aware of water consumption will reduce overall consumption rate. Many people use more water than needed.

Watch your household water use and observe where conservation can be made. When watering your lawn and garden on the city's pressurized system, adjust your watering schedule to evenings and night when possible. Adjust outdoor water schedules to match seasonal or weather conditions.

Weber Basin is hosting a free Learning Garden Fair on June 1, 2013 from 8:00 am until 2:00 pm. The Fair is at Weber Basin Learning Garden, 2837 E. Highway 193 in Layton. You can talk to experts in landscaping and irrigation. There are free hotdogs and drinks. You can also buy plants and get garden ideas. Weber Basin is also hosting multiple classes and programs during the spring and summer. For more information, visit their website: www.weberbasin.com/conservation.

Community Gardens & Parks

Come visit our Community Gardens at City Hall now open for the season. Our beautiful gardens are maintained by volunteers. Gardening classes are available: weberbasin.com/conservation. On the morning of May 18th, we are planning on loading, hauling, and spreading compost at the Community Gardens at City Hall. We will need 10-12 volunteers or more to help with this project. Please let us know if you can be of service for 1-2 hours that day.

West Davis Corridor

UDOT is close to completing its Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS). The DEIS will contain all the data, analysis, public input, and technical information the study team has collected and studies through the past three years. The DEIS will also identify UDOT's locally preferred alternative route. The DEIS is expected to be released this spring, along with a public hearing process and formal comment period. For information in the release of the DEIS and the upcoming public hearing schedule, please visit the project website at www.udot.utah.gov/westdavis. A final Record of Decision on an alternative is not expected until the study is complete in 2014. For the latest information, including maps, data, and project schedule visit the website. For questions or concerns, contact the study team at 877-298-1991 or visit the website.
